Savoline wins narrow victory

John Tory & Joyce Savoline

Halton: Halton's former Regional Chair; Joyce Savoline won a narrow victory in Burlington's MPP race for the PC party. Her victory is an indicator that her Party's policies and uncertain leadership was likely a factor when her constituents casted their votes.

PC Leader John Tory suffered a major defeat, losing in his own riding. His leadership is now in doubt and if he doesn't step down as the party leader, he will likely be challenged in the months ahead. Aside from the Liberals, the only other party that made significant gains was the Ontario Green Party. The Greens didn't win any parliamentary seats but did more than double its share of the popular vote.

PC - Joyce Savoline received 21517 votes with 41.31% of the popular vote beating out rival Liberal contender Marianne Meed Ward who received 19693 votes or 37.81%
